Argentina 🟴 Buenos Aires 🕏 El Calafate, Patagonia Nika Wynn, Dawna & Terry O'Malley and Cindy Castillo

Argentina was the second country we visited on our 3-country trip to South America. Buenos Aires lives up to the name "Paris of South America". We felt the Perón aftermath and saw a downtown still reconciling with its past, met a family struggling with current inflation and radical politics, tried tango dancing, ate empanadas in La Boca and enjoyed a beautiful city with parks, museums, wide streets, and lots of heart.
