

Spring 2007 Census Enrollment Notes
 April 23, 2007 compared to April 24, 2006

Assumptions Regarding Enrollment Analysis

The De Anza College enrollment analysis is complicated by changes in enrollments for distinct groups of students, including Physical Education (PE) course takers, Job Corps students, and international students on an F1 visa. Job Corps (JC) and F1 student recruitment efforts are undertaken by staff outside the Outreach Office. Physical Education has moved to a non-credit model for some of its courses, so a year to year comparison must take this into account. The charts below will note if any of these groups have been taken out of the analysis to make it easier to focus on student enrollment patterns outside these areas.

Spring 2006 to Spring 2007 Census Trends

- Without taking into account changes in the PE program, Spring 2007 Census day enrollment appears to be down about 4% in credit WSCH compared to the same date last year.
 - If we assume flat PE enrollment, WSCH is off about 1%.
 - If we assume flat PE and JC enrollment, WSCH would be up about 5%.
Average WSCH per student increases from 11.69 to 12.20.
- Of the 10 Ten WSCH generating departments – which generate 50% of College WSCH, 8 of 10 departments were up in WSCH, with Biology and Manufacturing (Job Corps) posting declines from Spring 2006 to Spring 2007 Census.
- International (F1) student enrollment is up nearly 20% over the previous quarter.
- De Anza College continues to see a decline in permanent resident immigrants and students on H visas. The decline is across ethnic groups and country of citizenship.
- Enrollment this quarter continues with the trend towards a higher percentage of students indicating their initial goal as Transfer or Degree. (see figure below)
